MISSING RECTOR BACK, BUT A BLANK

GET DEATH THREATS BY WIRE

MRS. JAMES C. BARR

Boston and New York steel magnate's wife appealed to police to find her husband in New York while he was detained at a business meeting. She had become alarmed by a series of mysterious messages received by phone, threatening death to herself and husband if they "talked about" a certain woman, said to be a former business acquaintance of Mr. Barr.

The Porters Arrive.
In High Nevada.
Indians, Geysers, Silver.
What Is Man?

By Arthur Brisbane

THE GOOD THING about American property is that it spreads further and further from the great central sources of wealth. In ancient days, a rich aristocrat in his palace was surrounded by ignorant, miserable, half-starved, hawking, peasants. Later the owner of a great factory in New England had the "qualification" of knowing as he lay in bed before daybreak that the men and women were all ready on the way up to mill to take money for him.

THEY HAD changed, and will change more. Millions of men go to work in automobiles. And the automobile widens their sphere of labor. A carpenter or bricklayer can work comfortably anywhere within fifteen or twenty miles of his dwelling. That change is as important, almost, as the invention of the locomotive.

THE PORTERS Arrive. In High Nevada. Indians, Geysers, Silver. What Is Man? The Porters Arrive. In High Nevada. Indians, Geysers, Silver. What Is Man? The Porters Arrive. In High Nevada. Indians, Geysers, Silver. What Is Man?

MYSTERIOUS WOMAN WARNS OF DEATH IN N. Y. TELEPHONE CALLS

New York, March 3.—A mysterious woman's voice over the telephone has been warning Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and other officials of the United States Department of Justice, that they were in danger of death. The calls, which Mrs. Barr, wife of the steel magnate, had been making for several days, were received by Mr. Hoover on an average of two and three times a week.

The mysterious voice warned Mr. Barr that she and her husband would be killed if they and "any thing" about a woman described by Mrs. Barr's secretary as a former business acquaintance of the magnate.

LIGHT VETO IS UPHELD

Governor Fuller scored a victory in his fight against the veto of the Legislature, despite the open warfare between the two branches of the State government that has existed for some days. Representative John R. Back of Chelsea, urging support for today's veto, lauded Fuller as a fearless champion of the people in the fight against domination by public service corporations.

The Bernhards left Boston on Washington's Birthday for a pleasure trip by automobile through the South. They put the car on the steamship last Monday and started home.

There is no "Rev. J. F. Smith" nor "Milly Kelly" listed in the directory, however.

Dispatches later in the afternoon today said the City of St. Louis had ripped up a band steering gear and was proceeding slowly on her course to New York.

The King David and the City of St. Louis were apparently the worst hit by the storm which swept savagely along the coast.

While New England was hard hit by the storm, it did not seem to have been as apparently off Cape Hatteras and the Virginia Capes.

SENT OUT WIRELESS.

The King David, which cleared the Gulf of Mexico bound for New Orleans, the Canal Zone, was carried on the rocks by the storm which reached the Gulf's properties of a hurricane.

When the Captain learned that his wireless call for help, he also sent up rockets.

The King David entered immediately put out from Norfolk, but before they reached the King David, she had been wrecked.

It was reported that she was making her way

The Associated Press also reports that the Cape Charles and Winter Harbor tugs were ordered to assist their moorlines by the storm. They refused because of the fog, but safety riding out the storm.

ILL LUCK HIT SHIP

TUG ON LONG ROAD OF 136

Baddeck, apparently following a strange combination of 13's, played havoc with the American steamer Sulzer with a single shot today at Mystic locks after a voyage from Fowey, Eng., taking nearly four months.

On her thirteenth voyage, the vessel sailed November 12 and on the following day, the 13th, Sulzer was hit by a shot overboard. A long series of hardships followed and twice the steamer was forced back to port. The trip usually takes the ship 13 weeks.

Captain Harry Iversen has thirteen letters in his name and he was born on the 13th of December.

GETS 6 MONTHS IN "GUN-TOTING" CASE; APPEALS

Cesar Fritz of Cranston, R. I., one of the three men arrested in an automobile by "Two Gun" Baker of the Quincy police force after a two-mile chase, was today sentenced to six months in the House of Correction on the charge of carrying a revolver without a permit. Sentence was pronounced by Judge McArnarny in Quincy District court. Fratzen appealed and was placed under $1,000 bail. His companions, Louis Carvalino of Cranston and Frank Franko of Providence were discharged.

ENGINEER, LEGS GONE, SAVED BY PALS

Carl Stevenson, veteran Boston & Maine engineer, is at the Massachusetts General Hospital with his legs severed near the knees, but alive because his friends, J. W. Macdonald, "Tender" and George Hainman, president of the Boston & Maine, cut out back in the office chair and fell well within the hospital to give their friend, in severe fusion operation, to save the life of an injured engineer.

Stevenson and his friend had brought their train, daily from Chatham to North Station. They were anxious to get over to North Station to get something to eat before their return run.

A train from Greenfield, bound for North Station, passed the Charles lower enginehouse and engine and fireman decided to swing around. The fireman, a young man, leaped the train in safety. Stevenson missed the last rail and fell under the train.

The fireman realized his "buddy" was not with him on the train he promptly swung off to the ground and ran back along the tracks. He forced something and happened.

The fireman found the engineer writing in agony. The whole lot ground off both legs. Macdonald, D. H. Hainman, president of the Charles lower engine house, happened along. He found several pieces of light rope and two sticks and in a few minutes he had constructed, on the bleeding leg of the engineer, a splint.

Stevenson was rushed to the Massachusetts General Hospital. A surgeon looked over the fireman's work and said:

ELLIOTT CALLS WIFE 'A STAR NAGGER'

Constant nagging by his wife robbed him of his sleep and appetite and reduced his weight from 160 to 130 pounds, Robert Raymond Elliott of Cambridge, Harvard graduate, testified in Middlesex Probate Court today, combating his wife's suit for separate support.

Mrs. Mildred H. Elliott had testified that for two years she supported her husband at college.

"I did not desert her," declared Elliott. "From the very beginning of our married life, we were discussing separation. "She constantly nagged me. I could neither eat nor sleep and was constantly sitting up nights.

"She did not support me. I have now carried checks showing my father paid $2000 a year for my expenses while I was at college, and I earned $2000 additional.

"I had been told Mildred was Mrs. Howard's daughter, a descendant of a famous English family who arrived at Plymouth in 1620. Just before the wedding day, Mrs. Howard told me that my wife was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carr of New Brunswick."

He admitted Mrs. Howard paid for an operation for appendicitis he had at the time his wife was operated on.

"Was yours a sympathetic operation?" asked Attorney Peter Barry. "No," retorted Elliott. "I just thought that as long as she had to have her appendix out I might as well have mine removed too."

ALUMNI CHIDES HARVARD AS POOR HOST

Little last night! That's how alumni teams visiting Harvard feel, the Harvard Alumni Bulletin charged today in chiding the Crimson for "inhospitable treatment when supposedly playing the role of host."

Comparing the entertainment of Harvard teams when visiting rival institutions, the Bulletin declared that the Crimson was "a poor host."

Comparing the entertainment of Harvard teams when visiting rival institutions, the Bulletin declared that the Crimson was "a poor host."

"As host society, membership in which is a distinction, handling the Dartmouth entertaining every minute the visitor is on the campus, while Boston visitors must be content with the best of the city, and the street cars," the Bulletin pointed out.

It suggested that while present reported "hard feelings" growing out of athletic battles are being eased, a schedule of entertainment for visiting teams might be put forward as a partial remedy.

At present, the Bulletin declared, all that visitors see of Harvard hospitality are the glass flowers at the University Museum and a mere or less sharp encounter on the playing field.

"If feeling toward Harvard and the long prevalent rivalry that Harvard men are cold and unbecoming, may possibly have their origin in this manner of treatment," it suggested.

Romeo and Juliet

Shakespeare's Immortal Romance

"For Venus smiles Not in a house of tears." Commenting to marry Count Paris, Juliet then drank the sleeping potion. Prior Lawrence immediately went to the tomb to return his bride from the tomb in which, thinking her dead, they would place her.

"Death lies on her like an untimely frost Upon the sweetest flower of all the field." The wedding breakfast was turned into a funeral feast when Juliet was found apparently dead upon her couch. Count Paris and Juliet's parents were heartbroken over what they believed to be her untimely end.

"O mickle, thou art swift to enter in The thoughts of desperate men!" Had news travels fast. Word that Juliet was dead reached Romeo before "Friar Lawrence's messenger arrived from Mantua. Romeo at once bought poison, and hurried to Verona, planning to end his life at her side.

"Good gentle soul, Pray not and a desperate man!" Arriving at Juliet's room, Romeo was met by Count Paris, who, thinking that Romeo, a stranger, had slain his wife, the Countess, provoked him to a duel. The priest-estricken Romeo begged Paris to hold his peace.

Chorus Girls Rank High in What D'ye Knows

What do you know? Five members of "Queen High" company, playing at the Shubert Theatre, know a lot and they proved it.

All five, three stars and two chorus girls, passed the Boston Evening American "What D'ye Knows" quiz with flying colors. Now how about you?

The questions aren't really hard, but some of them have been called "tricky." That isn't fair, because the person who called them "tricky"—and they weren't any of the five—usually says that note after they realized they should have been able to answer and couldn't. It's great fun. That's what Julia Sanderson said after she had waded through the 21 queries of yesterday's "What Do You Know" array.

"I really didn't take the questions seriously when we opened in Boston last night," said the fair Julia, star of "Queen High." But after today I'm sold on the quiz. Say, I don't do pretty well."

Julia was assured truthfully that she did do "pretty well." In fact, she received a percentage of 89.9, which is a "lot" better than "pretty well." If you should ask the "What Do You Know" editor,

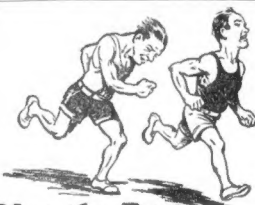

Frank Crumit was the high girl of the day, however. Frank hit 90 per cent. If you don't think that's about as good as they come, you must be an supercilious.

Must Take Marriage More Seriously

"WHAT makes home happy?"

The first desideratum is a good woman, a good woman blessed with common sense, willing to do her full share and even more than her share if necessary.

Other necessities are love, honesty and perfect faith in each other. Without these, and a proper consideration of the parties' point of view, even the best intended marriages may land upon the rocks.

BELIEVES IN SEPARATE ALLOWANCES.

I have been married five years; I am the mother of two children; my husband has never received a large salary—and we have yet to have our first "argument."

A man should be master in his own home and no woman should marry a man unless she sees in him the qualities of such leadership. There are many little things which we might classify as "accessories," but love, honesty and perfect faith come first.

I believe in separate allowances; that the wife should have some of the family income to call her own. I believe in respecting one another's privacy; for example, I should not think of opening a letter addressed to my husband, nor would he to mine, already opened, a letter addressed to my name.

SHOULD TAKE MARRIED LIFE MORE SERIOUSLY.

Other writers have pictured Mr. Husband coming home at night tired and perhaps a bit touchy and have stressed the importance of having the evening meal ready on time. True enough. The fact is that the success of the home, the happiness of the home, depends upon the wife and her skill in management.

Let us be frank and admit that when women begin to take married life more seriously—as seriously, let us say, as the spirit with which our mothers and grandmothers approached it—there will be more happy homes in the U. S. A. and not so many divorces.

That has been my attitude, and my home is as has been a happy one.

(Signed)

MRS. MARIE E. GRENFELL.

No. 15 Newcomb street, Boston.

Write Your Code for Happy Homes

That there will be more happy homes in the United States when women begin to take married life more seriously is the thought advanced by the writer of today's letter in the Boston Evening American's discussion of "What Makes Home Happy? What Makes Home Unhappy?"

The writer is Mrs. Marie E. Grenfell, as the force which will drive her from out of the home. Another has suggested "shock," as the force which will drive her from out of the home. The writer of today's letter on this subject which is printed, "Escape on Saturday," The Saturday award will be FIFTY DOLLARS.

DUST FIREMAN IN SHOOTING

Fireman John J. Fitzgibbon was officially discharged from the Lynn Fire Department today when a communication, containing a copy of the sustained charges, was sent him by Mayor Bauer.

Fitzgibbon, who lives in Mt. Pleasant place, Lynn, was shot early in the morning of February 23 in the home of Mrs. Rose Houghton, a widow, of Bond street, Lynn. The fireman and woman said he had been mistaken for a burglar, although he had been hunting for a murderer, in the belief that also was away.

BRITAIN STANDS BY SOVIET PACT

London, March 3 (A.P.)—Great Britain will not break off diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia, Sir Austen Chamberlain, the Foreign Secretary, declared in the House of Commons today.

The Foreign Secretary's statement was made during a debate on the exchange of notes last week between London and Moscow.

Sir Robert Horne, former chancellor of the exchequer, leading the movement to abrogate the Anglo-Russian trade agreement, declared the United States treated Soviet Russia as "an outlaw among nations," but still did more trade with Russia and obtained more valuable concessions than did Great Britain. It was Sir Robert who negotiated the agreement with the late Leonid Krasin in 1921 in behalf of Lloyd George's coalition government.

DRUGS EXCITE THE KIDNEYS DRINK WATER

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because no body can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

No Indigestion!

AVOID UGLY PIMPLES

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should have a clear after taking the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for emulsion; there's no sickness or pain after taking them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do what which cannot do, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cured with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless "no good" feeling, constipation, terpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound made from olive oil; know them by their olive color. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the only vegetable pills for patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take nightly for a week. New La Salle Car Made by the Cadillac Co.

Announcement is made by Lawrence P. Fisher, president of the Cadillac Motorcar Company, of the introduction of the LaSalle, a new car manufactured completely by the Cadillac Motorcar Company within its own plants.

According to the announcement, the LaSalle has been introduced in order to provide a companion car of Cadillac caliber for a slightly varying field of usefulness and thereby meet a demand which has existed in this country for some time.

The new car takes its name from Tena Robert Cavalier de la Salle, who, like Antoine de la Mothe Cadillac, was a great French explorer who made history in America during the time of Louis the 14th of France.

The LaSalle will be shown for the first time by distributors and dealers throughout the United States at the Cadillac Spring Show, March 3 to 12. At this season there will also be comprehensive exhibits of the latest model Cadillacs.

The basic factors which have contributed so much to the success of the Cadillac in the fine car field have been closely adhered to in the development and the manufacture of the LaSalle, for the LaSalle is announced as a true companion car to Cadillac, designed by Cadillac engineers and produced by Cadillac craftsmen.

The LaSalle is powered with the same type of 30-degree, V-type eight-cylinder engine which has been used in Cadillac motor cars ever since its introduction in 1911. The LaSalle is low, graceful, fluid in appearance, somewhat lighter in weight than the Cadillac and of a slightly smaller wheelbase.

And in equipment, in luxury of appointments, performance, and riding comfort, as in mechanical design, every effort has been made to make it a genuinely fine car.

Big body styles are presented: a two-passenger roadster, a convertible coupe, a two-passenger coupe, a four-passenger Victoria and a five-passenger sedan.

In the open cars, the lines are low and sleek. Windshields are of the one-piece type and may be folded forward over the cowl. The independent coil ventilators on each side of the hood make it possible to ventilate either side of the car or both.

In the rear deck of the roadster, there is an unusually large and comfortable folding seat and a cozy cowl compartment. In the four closed bodies, stream lines are emphasized by numerous details. A windbreak in the form of a crease is carried out on the crown of the fenders, the headlamps, the cowl hump, and the top of the radiator and cap. Round corners of the window recesses add to the beauty and strength of body construction.

There is a coupe pillar effect in the curve of the front pillars forward as they sweep downward toward the pointed hooding. The color distribution is unique in that two separate colors are used on the top and on the cowl and hood. The rounded hooding is brought to a top at the meeting of cowl and hood.

The examination of the former lightweight champion came when he was brought into court several days ago in answer to a charge by a woman that he had been sexually abused. Nelson was then dismissed, but he had stolen the motion picture film of the trial and was charged with it. An All-Walsh took Nelson's trial.

Nelson was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct when he refused to surrender peacefully when policemen went to his home with a warrant.

Nelson's attorney yesterday sought to protect the former champion of property worth $250,000 by filing a writ of habeas corpus to withhold the Psychopathic report if it found Nelson mentally in competent. Such action was re-

A WIFE'S MEDITATIONS---BY HELEN ROWLAND

ONE of the things that a woman most covets a man, in his perfect equilibrium--his lovely cast-iron nerves.
May may have been "made to mourn," but he has cheerfully doled his destiny, by turning over the job to woman.
Every woman bitterly envies a man his ability to turn over and go to sleep in the midst of an exciting argument and the next moment calmly facing the falling right back into a blissful dream, after a fire or burglar alarm.
Everything makes a woman "nervous." NOTHING makes a man nervous.
He can calmly stand for half an hour on a street corner, reading the baseball bulletin, watching a dog of saunovers at work, or swapping stories with a crowd, without once skipping a pulse-beat at the thought that the dog is getting cold, the crowd drying up in the open and the cook probably having forgotten the dinner.

To Those Who Suffer Stomach Distress, Gas and Indigestion
All Druggists Make This Offer
Money Back If One Bottle of Dare's Mentha Pepsin Doesn't Do You More Good Than Any You Ever Used

You can be so distressed with gas and fullness and bloating from an overworked, abused or weak stomach that you think your heart is going to stop beating.
Your stomach may be so constipated that your breathing is short and easy.
You think perhaps you are suffering from indigestion. You are right. You are right for quick relief--what to be done!
Just one tablespoonful of Dare's Mentha Pepsin and speedily the gas disappears, the pressing on the heart ceases and you can breathe deep and naturally.

He can serenely sit a woman's letter in his pocket and neglect to answer it for a couple of weeks without a quiver of conscience at the knowledge that she is waiting anxiously to the door six or seven times a day, looking for a word from him.
He can break a date at the last moment, and then eat a hearty dinner on his wife's expense, without a tremor of remorse at the conclusion that he has spoiled a girl's whole evening.
He can promise to go to a party, and then on the evening there, "pull it off" with never a thought of the agonized loneliness, who is torturing her brain and beating the telephone wires hot, in her mad effort to fill his place.
He can close his lips comfortably on his pipe or cigar, and Kipling's secret to himself, even when he knows that his wife is waiting anxiously to the door six or seven times a day, looking for a word from him.
He can turn on his radio at midnight or sit for an hour practicing on his wife's expense without a twinge of guilt at the knowledge that he is driving the whole household to nervous prostration or worse.

Varicose Veins Reduced or Money Back, Say Druggists
Simple Home Treatment That Is Giving Amazing Results

The world progresses. Today ailments that look weeks to treat can now be ended in a few days. If you have varicose veins or hemorrhoids you can start today to bring them back to normal size, and if you are wise you will do so.
Just get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil at any disreputable pharmacist and apply it night and morning to the enlarged veins. It is very powerful and penetrating and only a little is required.
After a few days' treatment the veins will begin to grow smaller and by regular use will soon reduce to normal.
Moone's Emerald Oil is also a marvelous healing agent. One application, for instance, stops the itching of eczema, and a few applications cause the eruptions to dry up, scale off and completely disappear. It is equally as effective in barbers' itch, salt crabs, redness and inflammatory skin troubles.
People who want to rid their veins of varicose veins, or get rid of eczema, hemorrhoids, or other skin troubles, do not hesitate to get a bottle at once. It is so powerful that it will bring the veins a long time. All druggists sell lots of it.
